Welcome to the Office of the Public Guardian (OPG)

“ Thank you for your interest in a career at the Office of the Public Guardian (OPG). ”

OPG offers a great opportunity to contribute to some vital work which will only increase in its significance as we react to the needs of an ageing population. Simply put, our purpose is to protect adults at risk and support them to make their own decisions – you can come into the office every day knowing you’re making a difference to people’s lives.

We work hard to make OPG a brilliant place to work, putting our values at the heart of everything we do. We’re passionate about inclusion and creating a sense of belonging for all our people. With a wide range of staff networks, there’s rarely a week that passes without an opportunity to celebrate and embrace our successes and our diversity. We also place a value on learning, training and flexible working.

The following pages of this pack will tell you more about OPG and the nature of the role you’re applying for.

If you believe you have the experience and qualities we’re seeking, we look forward to hearing from you.

Nick Goodwin

Public Guardian

About the OPG

Role and Responsibilities

The Office of the Public Guardian (OPG) is an executive agency of the Ministry of Justice (MOJ).

Our Chief Executive, Nick Goodwin, is responsible to the Lord Chancellor and Secretary of State for Justice for the effective operation of the agency.

OPG supports the Public Guardian in carrying out the legal functions of the Mental Capacity Act 2005. The Act protects people in England and Wales who do not have the mental capacity to make certain decisions for themselves in relation to their health and welfare or property and financial affairs. OPG has a role in supporting and providing safeguarding to the adults at risk who we come into contact with.

OPG is responsible for

Registering lasting and enduring powers of attorney (LPAs and EPAs) so that people can choose who they want to make certain decisions on their behalf, if they lose capacity to make those decisions for themselves.

Maintaining the public register of attorneys and deputies appointed by the Court of Protection.

Supervising deputies appointed by the Court of Protection, making sure they carry out their responsibilities in the best interests of their clients and in line with the requirements of the Mental Capacity Act, and carrying out investigations and taking action where there are concerns about an attorney or deputy.

OPG Values

PURPOSE

Justice matters. We are proud to make a difference for the public we serve.

OPENNESS

We innovate, share, and learn. We are courageous and curious, relentlessly pursuing ideas to improve the services we deliver.

HUMANITY

We treat others as we would like to be treated. We value everyone, supporting and encouraging them to be the best they can be.

TOGETHER

We listen, collaborate and contribute, acting together for our common purpose.

OPG Locations

Axis Building, 10 Holliday Street, Birmingham, B1 1TF

Next door to the Mailbox, the nearest train stations are Birmingham New Street, Moor Street and Snow Hill, all a short walk away.

There is no onsite car parking available.

A secure bike shed is available for cyclists.

Embankment House, Waterside Business Park, Electric Avenue, Nottingham, NG80 1EH

The nearest train station is Nottingham and you can get to Embankment House by catching the Navy 49 or 48 buses from next to the station, Monday to Friday, every 15 minutes (journey time of approximately 8 minutes).

Limited onsite car parking is available on a rota basis along with a bike storage facility.

What's it like to work for OPG?

“ My role is to help the business understand its performance and impact on our customers. When I joined OPG I was also training as a Magistrate and OPG really supported me. Flexible working helped me do my training alongside my job. I've been doing both roles ever since. I've worked at OPG for 10 years and that feeling of helping people is what makes me want to come to work every day. ”

Supriya, Performance Manager

“ I'm proud to work at the OPG because it has given me the right support I need in order to progress and I have met a lot of good people. ”

Aaron, General Case Manager

“ I joined OPG as an Administrative Officer from the private sector and the biggest difference was the purpose of my role. Previously, I'd only worked for profit organisations where the main objective was to maximise company revenue. At OPG our goal is to protect and safeguard vulnerable adults and it's great knowing my work will help someone and I can play my part serving society. ”

Sunyana, Project Support Manager

“ Every day I am surrounded by colleagues offering fantastic support to our customers and to each other. ”

Nuala, Deputy Head of Supervision and Investigations Services

“ Someday we will all be our clients and someone needs to be there to look out for them. I'm proud to be one of those people. ”

Harry, Senior Investigator

“ I am proud to work at OPG because I see first-hand the positive difference we make to countless people who are facing emotionally difficult and challenging situations. ”

Ali, Deputy Head of Power of Attorney Services

Career progression potential at OPG

Stephen talks about the opportunities he's had to develop his career at OPG.

“ I joined OPG as an Administrative Assistant (Band E). I got on really well with my new colleagues but wanted to get more experience and successfully applied to be an Executive Officer (Band D) line manager. My new role was brilliant and I gained a lot of valuable experience very quickly.

I moved roles, into IT Support, getting new experiences, new skills and seeing new areas of the business. I loved the job. I had a high-level of autonomy, and it was a problem-solving role which fitted me to the core.

I moved again, to the Continuous Improvement team. The problem-solving aspect appealed massively to me. It was a fantastic role – really understanding how each part of the business worked and collaborated. Lots of training was made available too and I took every opportunity. I honed my mentoring skills which also developed me. I worked with the Investigations team who had a number of problems which provided opportunities to really improve customer service.

I successfully applied for a Senior Investigators (Band C) position and was tasked with trialling a new way of managing cases and training new Investigators. I really worked on my soft skills, which were my weakest - but this was a good opportunity to improve that.

The next opportunity was the role of Service Manager (Band B), it was the role for me. I was successful, and then worked really hard to add value to the business.

So there's my career to date. I'm now in a place where I am thinking again about next steps, but I will follow my own advice and look for a role that interests and challenges me. ”
